

A decorative border of colorful balloons (blue, pink, orange) with black strings, arranged in a rectangular frame around the text.

10 Ways to Deal with Difficult Students

PREPARED BY

FATIMA MAHMOOD

For

T.p.T .DOWNLOAD

NOTES

PREPARED BY

FATIMA MAHMOOD FOR

T p T DOWNLOAD

IF YOU ARE FACINING SIMILAR PROBLEMS

HANDILING DFFICULT / SEN CHILDREN

PLEASE

WRITE I WILL SEND YOU RELIVENT NOTES

We have all the students who are usually in trouble or hurt. This management of the post clas is for all teachers who struggle to reach these children who scold when you look at, back when you are near them and refuse to do what they ask.

Here are ten classroom management suggestions:

How to deal with these difficult students:

Stay in touch with parents

Make sure they know what is happening; how many times he's in trouble, and what trouble he was. Create this link and you will not

Use the proximity to limit negative actions

When possible, place the student close to you (which is difficult if child in aggressive mood) or stay close to him .

Have set student expectations

Use the same steps to get the student on task and try to achieve goals set

Choose the best time for discipline

You can't win when you try to call a student in front of his friends. Back off until you speak privately.

Try to sympathize with the student

I know it's hard, because the kid is TOUGH, but try to find out what is really happening. You can get Someone to talk to the student? The student may need to take a safe seat to regroup.

Build on common ground

Reflect on your report to see if there is some way that you can relate to the student. The student playing the sport In the band? Have a brother? Build on that and see what happens.

Use your colleagues in teaching

Talk to your colleagues; could someone join this student? If so, make an appointment with the student and the teacher.

Define the class work a non-issue

It's HARD, but take the work of the class of the equation for a short period and work on the relationship... work that "work" back at the latest.

Try the technique of peer guardian

Ask yourself the question - is the difficult good student in a subject? Can it be a fellow Professor? Can it help someone else succeed? It works in TWO ways.

Never give up

Regardless of the behavior, do not give upward to try to reach this student... the negativity can be a defense for something more profound. Follow the good fight!

What strategies do you use when dealing with difficult students? Share with us in the comments

The 7 Rules of Handling Difficult Student

The 7 Rules of Handling Difficult Students

Please read a list of common rules that will help you avoiding mistakes in every day decisions and help most difficult students to learn and become useful students in classroom.

Rule No 1. Do not pinpoint.

It is teachers normal practice to emphasized and point out any mistake of difficult students as well . But the difficult students show reaction if teachers point out class behavior or any other such mistakes in classroom activities. They may show aggression or tempertetrum

Rule #2: Do not argue.

When taking with difficult students, do not emphasized your point of view or neglect their judgments. Just avoid any confrontation. This will encourage difficult students open up and take part in discussion.

Rule #3: Do not scold or try to teach harshly.

Do not try to teach in loud voice, beyond student understandings or pointing towards a particular student. It will make them annoyed. They may show reactions like not taking part in classroom activities. The student's behavior will get worse.

Rule #4: Do not give unnecessary positive rewards.

Only meaningful and sincere praise will lead towards the real accomplishment.

Rule #5: Do not argue.

Try to teach in relax, happy manners. Avoid unnecessary discussions.

Rule #6: Don't lose your temper.

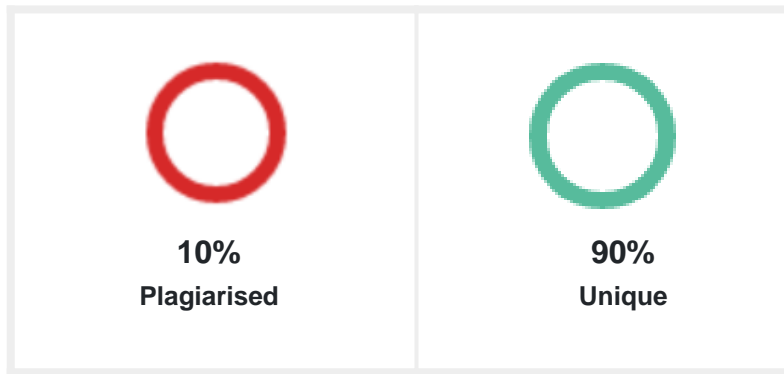

Try to be calm and showed relax manners while teaching in your classroom. Show sympathy and understanding to children problems. This will raise your communication level with your class students.

Rule #7: Do not ignore the bad behavior.

A teacher better acknowledged the bad behavior by taking notice. Try to follow the rules about classroom management as far as possible. The rule violation must be noticed and handle accordingly as much as possible.

PLAGIARISM SCAN REPORT

Date 2020-04-24

Words 733

Characters 4145

Content Checked For Plagiarism

1 PREPARED BY FATIMA MAHMOOD For T.p.T .DOWNLOAD 2 3 NOTES PREPARED BY FATIMA MAHMOOD FOR T p T DOWNLOAD IF YOU ARE FACINING SIMILAR PROBLEMS HANDILING DFFICULT / SEN CHILDREN PLEASE WRITE I WILL SEND YOU RELIVENT NOTES We have all the students who are usually in trouble or hurt. This management of the post clas is for all teachers who struggle to reach these children who scold when you look at, back when you are near them and refuse to do what they ask. Here are ten classroom management suggestions: How to deal with these difficult students: Stay in touch with parents Make sure they know what is happening; how many times he's in trouble, and what trouble he Was. Create this link and you will not 4 Use the proximity to limit negative actions When possible, place the student close to you (which is difficult if child in aggressive mood) or stay close to him . Have set student expectations Use the same steps to get the student on task and try to achieve goals set Choose the best time for discipline You can't win when you try to call a student in front of his friends. Back off until you speak privately. Try to sympathize with the student I know it's hard, because the kid is TOUGH, but try to find out what is really happening. You can get Someone to talk to the student? The student may need to take a safe seat to regroup. Build on common ground Reflect on your report to see if there is some way that you can relate to the student. The student playing the sport In the band? Have a brother? Build on that and see what happens. Use your colleagues in teaching Talk to your colleagues; could someone join this student? If so, make an appointment with the student and the teacher. 5 Define the class work a non-issue It's HARD, but take the work of the class of the equation for a short period and work on the relationship... work that "work" back at the latest. Try the technique of peer guardian Ask yourself the question - is the difficult good student in a subject? Can it be a fellow Professor? Can it help someone else succeed? It works in TWO ways. Never give up Regardless of the behavior, do not give upward to try to reach this student... the negativity can be a defense for something more profound. Follow the good fight! What strategies do you use when dealing with difficult students? Share with us in the comments 6 The 7 R. ules of Handling C:U sersMA L Difficult Student The 7 Rules of Handling Difficult Students Please read a list of common rules that will help you avoiding mistakes in every day decisions and help most difficult students to learn and become useful students in classroom. Rule No 1. Do not pinpoint. It is teachers normal practice to emphasized and point out any mistake of difficult students as well . But The difficult students show reaction if teachers point out class behavior or any other such mistakes in classroom activities They may show aggression or tempertetrum Rule #2: Do not argue. When taking with difficult students, do not emphasized your point of view or neglect their judgments. Just avoid any conflict . It will encourage difficult students open up and take part in discussion. 7 Rule #3: Do not scold or try to teach harshly. Do not try to teach in loud voice, beyond student understandings or pointing towards a Paprticular student. It will make them annoyed. They may show reactions like not taking part in classroom activities The student's behavior will get worse. Rule #4: Do not give unnecessary positive rewards. Only meaningful and sincere praise will lead towards the real accomplishment. Rule #5: Do not argue. Try to teach in relax, happy manners. Avoid unnecessary discussions. Rule #6: Don't lose your temper. Try to be calm and showed relax manners while teaching in your classroom. Show sympathy and understanding to children problems. This will raise your communication level with your class students. Rule #7: Do not ignore the bad behavior. A teacher better acknowledged the bad behavior by taking notice. Try to follow the rules about classroom management as for as possible. The rule violation must be noticed and handle accordingly as much as possible

Matched Source

Similarity 9%

Title: Classroom Management: 10 Ways to Deal with Difficult Students here are ten classroom management suggestions on how to deal with these difficult students: stay in contact with parents. make sure they know what is going on; how often he is in trouble, and what trouble it was.what strategies do you use when dealing with difficult students?

<https://www.teachhub.com/10-ways-deal-difficult-students>

Similarity 5%

Title: The 7 Rules Of Handling Difficult Students

difficult students provide the greatest challenge for most teachers. learn just seven rules to transform them into valuable members of your classroom.if you're like most teachers, two or three difficult students take up most of your time. on the days when they're absent, or pulled from your class...

<https://www.smartclassroommanagement.com/2011/04/23/7-rules-of-handling-difficult-students/>

Check By:  Dupli Checker